Future Recommendations

1. Increase Weekend Promotions:

Since weekend sales are comparatively lower, introduce:

- Weekend combo offers
- Loyalty reward campaigns

2. Expand High-Performing Product Categories:

Coffee and Tea are the strongest revenue drivers. The business should:

- Introduce new coffee flavors
- Launch seasonal beverages
- Promote premium beverage upgrades
- Bundle beverages with snacks

3. Improve Lower Manhattan Sales Performance:

To improve underperforming regions:

- Run location-specific marketing campaigns
- Offer regional discounts
- Improve local advertising and visibility
- Analyze customer demographics and competitor activity

4. Optimize Inventory Based on Demand:

Since Barista Espresso and Brewed Chai Tea are top-selling products:

- Maintain higher inventory levels
- Ensure faster preparation and service
- Prioritize stock availability during peak hours

5. Focus on Peak Sales Periods:

As June and Q2 showed the highest sales:

- Increase staffing during peak seasons
- Prepare seasonal marketing campaigns
- Expand promotional activities during high-demand periods

6. Reevaluate Low-Performing Products

Packaged Chocolate recorded the lowest sales.

The business should:

- Reposition the product through promotions
- Bundle it with beverages
- Reduce inventory if demand remains low
- Consider replacing it with higher-demand products

7. Enhance Customer Retention:

Introduce:

- Mobile loyalty programs
- Personalized offers
- Membership rewards
- Digital ordering incentives

These initiatives can increase repeat purchases and long-term customer engagement.
